Do I need to cover my roof with solar tiles?

However, you don't have to cover your entire roof with solar tiles- several manufacturers, like the UK-based GB-Sol, offer "infill slates" that don't contain solar cells but are designed to match the appearance of your solar tiles and maintain a consistent look across your roof.

Can you replace roof tiles with solar panels?

You can replace your roof tiles with solar panels, either using solar roof tiles or in-roof solar panels. In both cases, the process involves removing your existing roof tiles and installing photovoltaic panels in their place. However, solar roof tiles need a complete roof replacement, while in-roof panels only replace specific sections.

Do solar tiles cost more than solar panels?

They can easily cost twice as much. Solar tiles take longer to install than solar panels, with installation time being approximately one week. It is not possible to integrate them into an existing roof, so they usually have to be installed in the roof of a new build or where the roof is being completely replaced for some reason.

Why are solar roof tiles so expensive?

However, the solar roof tile market in the UK is still fairly limited, and no way near as developed as the traditional solar panel market. This is partly why solar roof tiles are so much more expensive than normal solar panels. You can replace your roof tiles with solar panels, either using solar roof tiles or in-roof solar panels.
